Nodi

The Nodi frame takes the form of an organic, branching structure, onto which large decorative glass globes are mounted. The result is an instantly recognisable object that both illuminates and furnishes

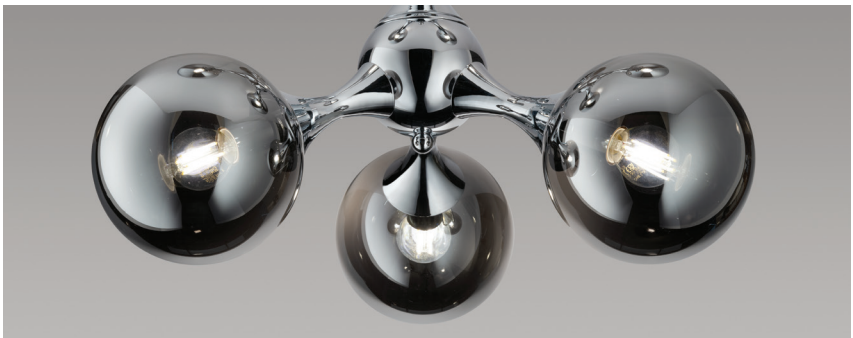

The exquisite finishes in chrome-plated metal or satin-finished brass and the quality of the white frosted or transparent chrome-plated blown glass enhance the complexity and sculptural quality of Nodi's structural elements.

Nodi combines a strong aesthetic identity with a wide and warm light distribution, making it ideal for residential and hospitality settings

The ceiling-mounted versions feature the same design language on a more compact scale, making them suitable for smaller spaces as well.
